These places are a part of a familiar routine. They have become a part of our lives, through each day that we spend here, and we have become a part of them through our participation in the traditional activities that are no longer traditional because we are not traditional.

Learning, being thoughtful and creative are a part of the daily grind.

But each person and each day is a different celebration.

as we experience life moment by moment.

Sweating, straining for a victory or defeat is rewarded - and we celebrate.

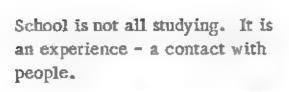

We each have different roles to play, but it takes us all together to make our school complete.

A song was provided by Ricky Holiman, Eva Johannson, Larry Morse. Diane Turner, and pianist Linda Baxley. The dancing music was played by Bandersnatch from Monroe.

The CHS Marching Band under the direction of Mr. Watson and Drum Major Overtis Hicks traveled to Memphis to participate in the Cotton Carnival, May 12 and 13. The band marched in the Children's Parade in the rain and the Grand Carnival Parade while in Memphis. A lot of free time was devoted to shopping centers and, without fail, the zoo and their ever-faithful animal friends. They also attended a Jazz Festival in the Memphis Colosseum.

Traditional Scholarships Awarded

In the spring of 1972, the suspense of who would receive the G. P. Scholarships began when essays, written by the upper one-third of the Senior class, were submitted. Finalists were chosen from those who applied and were interviewed by a special board set up by Georgia-Pacific. After another period of waiting, the winners were finally announced in a special assembly. Mr. Jack Meadows presented the awards to (clockwise) Overtis Hicks. David Posey, and Ben Walsh. Each will receive one thousand dollars a year for four years to help meet college expenses. Overtis is attending Henderson State College, David is attending Arkansas State University, and the University of Arkansas is where Ben goes to school.

CHS Bids Farewell to Swede

Eva Johansson, our 71-72 foreign exchange student from Sweden, had to leave us on July 5th. But she didn't leave without having a fun filled summer. Swede became a fellow "Crossett Kid," as well as being an ambassador for Sweden and for Christ. She went with Senior Girl Scout Troop #1 on their trip to Florida, and to Explo '72 in Dallas. Her American mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Hastings, took her on a family vacation. We all enjoyed having her sunny face in our normal lazy summer activities. On the Fourth of July, the Hastings gave a going away and birthday party for Eva. The next day her American family and friends took her to the airport in El Dorado to see her off. It was a sad event, but being able to know Eva and have her in Crossett was a celebration.

Bike Relay Record Broken in Crossett

Bakes became popular in Crossett for many people and reasons. Teenagers who paid a small fee took part in the Bike Race. Some had to ride as far as nine miles. Left: Lila Garrett advertises the race; just a couple of the ones who took part in the race. Pledges were taken for Carousel School during the Bike Marathon which lasted 48 hours. These boys broke the only known bike relay record of 550 miles with 750 miles. Below: are team members, Ricky Holiman, Mike Beene, Ricky Williams, Phil Pryor, Bob Williams, and Greg Farque.

Swimmers Dive in as Team

After several years, the swimming team made a comeback. When several youth came to Coach Burnett with the idea of a team, he started them out with a rugged work routine. They either met his demands or dropped out. Barbara Flanagan became the team's head coach, with Jack Walsh and Bob Carter working as assistants. After the team had gotten into shape, they sponsored a swim meet and invited Monticello. The team then traveled to Bastrop, where Nancy Grigsby won second place in the breast stroke, and Vicki Lebel took third place in the freestyle. Top Right: The swimmers dive into the race. Bottom Right: Junior members and their coach, Barbara Flanagan, cheer their fellow teammates. Bottom Left: Mike Beene, a senior member of the team, smiles as he watches the races.

Extra Work Pays Off for Band

Yearbook Workshop at OBU

"Celebrate" began at Ouachita
Baptist University, Arkadelphia
during the annual yearbook workshop, August 13-16. Cropping pictures, doing quad-packs, and meeting deadlines became realities for new staff members, and Joanne and Jody began to wonder if they'd make it through the year.

Mrs. Herron's water-hose broke, Jumbo fell down several times while "clogging" to see Junior Bonner, Marsha made a hit with Baby Rallies at the country store, and Marks Mill Battlefield became a place near and dear to our hearts. Discussions on Gus and Fourche Valley kept us up until the wee hours of the morn. Perhaps other things kept some of us awake. Friends and enemies were made, and nicknames that would last for life were installed. There were long work sessions when we thought it would be impossible to keep our eyes open one more minute, but we were proud of the honorable mention that we won for our trial yearbook that we put together.

Many different and memorable events went into learning to make this book. Long live Termite '73!

Top to Bottom: "Miss Charlene" gives advice about a layout. It was hard to work in the morning after a night-long work session. Just before heading for Crossett: Martha Vastine, Kathy Stanley. Youth Centers

Crossett Youth Centers provide livlihood for out of school hours. Clockwise: Luther Blakeley enjoys ping pong, blacks dance to music, Terry Trammell and Steve Hodge study pool strategy, and television provides relaxation for some.

Crossett Students Travel Abroad

This year CHS was fortunate enough to have two of its students accepted by the American Field Service for travels abroad. Besides helping Americans travel to foreign countries, the AFS aids in bringing foreign exchange students into the U.S. and finding a home for them. Through the AFS, cultures of the world are able to meet and better understand each other's way of life. Webb Ross was accepted to go and live with a family in Germany for eight weeks. Overtis Hicks was accepted to live in Norway for six weeks. Shown at right is Webb with other AFS friends during an AFS "get together" in Breman, Germany. Bottom Right: Webb and German brother, Antonius. Below: Overtis Hicks, a 1972 graduate of Crossett High School. Overtis is sitting thinking about her future trip.

Jr. Civitans Book Exchange

Each year at the end of summer, the Jr. Civitans sponsor a book exchange in order to aid students in buying and selling their text books for the next school year. Also, the book store is open year round for new books and school supplies.

Wild whoops from cowboys and clowns bring the annual Rodeo to town. The long, hot parade for the Eaglettes and Band, peddling Cokes in the arena stands, the dusty (or muddy) thud of horses hooves, the traditional Rodeo smell, and the excitement of each toddling future cowboy are all part of this summer celebration.

The people of Crossett got into the spirit of things, the week of August 9-12. Frontier decorations downtown could be seen throughout the Rodeo week. It was not unusual to see long-skirted ladies and bearded men roaming around Crossett.

The professional rodeo people took their livestock and left Crossett until next year. Everyone was a little exhausted, as we sometimes are after a good thing has passed.

Winning Season Proof of Hard Work

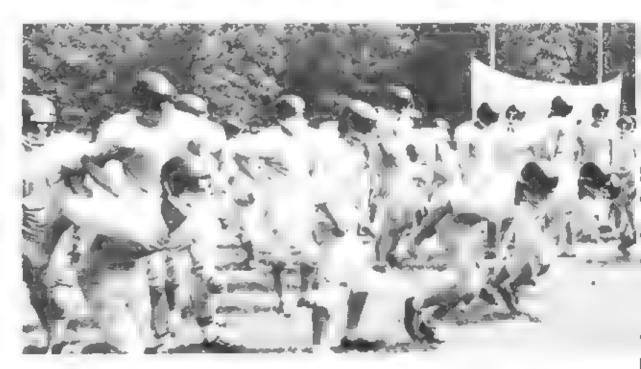

For the Eagle players, football did not begin with the first game against Magnolia, it started long before that when summer practice began. Football was more than just Friday nights at Forrest Field. It was long, sweaty two-a-days, well deserved ice breaks, football films, orange juice with karo syrup, managers with loads to wash, hi-de-ho chants sung by the players running sprints, and coaches with idealistic dreams. It all payed off. We came out ahead.

Booster's Theme — "Eat 'Em Up"

The band, cheerleaders, and pep squads all worked together to create spirit for the Eagles. It worked. Pep railies were exciting as more people joined in the yelling, and there was even a greater enthusiasm at the games. Practice payed off as was evident by the pre-game and half time Eaglette and band performances, and the cheerleaders hard work showed all during the games. We ate 'em up!

Memories of "Magic Moments"

Homecoming '72 was comprised of many things, but mostly of people.

People who worked-out in summer practice, all through the season, made sacrifices so that they could give us a great Homecoming. And they did, with a 28 to 2 victory over Warren. There were people who supported the Eagles all year, all the way. People who stood through the wettest game in Eagle history to cheer their team on to a Homecoming victory.

Other people gave up their time to create beautiful settings for the stage, the field, and the Youth Center. There were those who worked to plan out every step of the assembly, and the night coronation service; those who made sure that everything would run smoothly. Some people contributed their talents to make the afternoon service both entertaining and meaningful.

There were those who planned their schedules around outfit sizings, so that they could proudly represent the student body as their Homecoming Queen and Maids. Many people participated in Homecoming by giving a part of themselves through the emotions they felt as they watched others take an active part.

Homecoming '72. This was how many people celebrated it.

Were you one of them?

Golf Team Swings Into Year

The golf team under the direction of Coach Moseley practiced hard to prepare themselves for the golf tournaments. After school they played golf at the Country Club, and hit practice balls at the practice field to improve themselves. They played in tournaments at Monticello, Lake Village, Camden, El Dorado, and the district tournament at Magnolia. UPPER LEFT: Phil Wright tries a difficult shot from behind a tree. Track Track is a year-round occupation. Keeping in shape all the time is the key to doing well when the spring meets come around.

The Eagles have found the key.

Physical training takes self-discipline as well as discipline from coaches. There was never a better example of will power than Barry Boseman, who could be found running around Crossett at any hour.

His self-discipline paid off when he won the State Cross Country meet in Conway.

Every man dreams of winning, of setting a record. Mike Freeland's Decathlon Award was a dream come true for him and for Eagle track. Mark Pope, Gary Johnson, and Mike Beene vaulted their way into varying degrees of awards. Hughen Watson's hair was a bright, streaming banner signaling many races won for Crossett.

Out-of-town trips for the team were always adventurous and usually victorious. The entire team and the Crossett track enthusiasts all look forward to the Crossett Relays each spring, when other track teams from our district come to Crossett to compete.

Rip-Off Inc Game Challenges CHS Students

Rip-Off, Incorporated was the name chosen by the players of a mythical Multi-firm game. The University of Atkansas and Atkansas Power and Light sponsored the game which was set up to give the players an idea of how a real firm actually works. The players made decisions which determined the number, quality, and price of the product which was electric can openers. These decisions were fed into an IBM computer which determined what could happen if the decisions were real. The computer rated the CHS players decision against those of five other schools in this area. These students gained experience which could be very valuable to them after they finish school.

This organization developed its center around Christ as it worked to create a Christian atmosphere in and around the school, Last summer, several of Crossett's athletes attended FCA camp in Russellville, where they heard many well known athletes confess their faith in Jesus Christ. Under the leadership of Mike Hutchins, this year's FCA met once a week, to study and learn more about God. The FCA conducted morning devotionals, sing-a-longs with other students, and also helped the Goodfellows bring Christmas to the needy. Quill and Scroll—Literary Honor Club

The purpose of the National Quill and Scroll Society at CHS for the '72-173 year has been to encourage and reward individual student achievement in journalism and school publications. The Society has always taken an active part in raising standards in the field of scholastic journalism. The qualifications for this honor are: have superior work in some phase of journalism or school publications work, such as writing, editing. business management, or production; be recommended by the supervisor of a publication staff, be in the upper one third of their class, and be a junior or a senior.

Termiters Chew Way Through Challenging Year

TERMITE Staff: Hudson Akin - bus, mgr., Kathy Stanley, Sharon Deckelman, Mary Anne Woods - asst, mgr., Mrs. Charlene Thomas - sponsor, Susie Scott, Greg Scott, Jody Hart - asst. editor, Martha Vastine, Lila Garrett, Joanne Herron - editor, and Karla Robbins. BELOW: Termiters Greg Scott, Joanne Herron, Jody Hart, Karla Robbins, and Mary Ann Woods check over different parts of their assignment.

More was required than school time to be able to publish a book that was to capture an entire year. There were times, especially before deadlines, when Termiters could be seen late at night frantically working on their pages, or skipping lunch to type up the finishing bit of copy. Being a staff member meant learning to work in a space that was one third the size you needed, concentrate while certain members of the staff were singing, and it meant doing pages over, and over, and over. Being a Termiter was not all work, though. It was getting to know people seeking their opinions, depending on them to come up with ideas, and feeling close to them when everyone was in the same tight. But most of all, being on the staff was an opportunity to catch parts of '72-'73, and present them to everyone else.

"Eagle" Edition Spreads News

The "EAGLE" flys its news to all CHS and NHS students once a six weeks. The paper not only keeps the students up on what's happening, but in years to come will serve as a history of their high school days. Many people never realize all the work that goes into each edition before it is published. Interviews, news scoops, details of school happenings, ad sales, meetings, writeups, typing, drawing, photographs, deadlines, and laying-out the paper are all necessary jobs that must be performed before the staff delivers the finished product to the students.

CHS Student Council Leads District

This year the Student Council had the duties of District President, as well as their local activities. Members of CHS's Council rewrote the district constitution and also held the fall and spring conference meetings. Their local projects included: raising money for Homecoming, planning various Homecoming activities, sponsoring the annual "Mr. Turkey" contest (of which Mike Jones was the winner), writing a booklet containing school rules and policies, and boosting school spirit by selling Eagle stickers.

One of the various duties of Student Council president, Web Ross, is to perform as master of ceremonies at the Homecoming Coronation, as seen at top right. Pictured below are the Student Council members for '72-'73, who were selected by their fellow students. The officers ran in a competitive election campaign before being voted on.

Celebrate Friendship

The Seniors of '73 have waited to be Seniors ever since those early days when they had only a vague idea of what Seniors were. 1973 finally came. Was it everything that we hoped for?

How did the things we planned turn out? All of us planned things that we knew would happen - the Eaglette Dance (who will I ask"), Homecoming, the Banquet and Prom, the ACT test, hand and music festivals, club conventions, graduation. All of these events were anticipated. But there were things that were new and special. These are the things that made being a Senior of '73 unexpected and a year that no other Senior has ever had or will ever have in the future.

Friends were a part of '73 as they grew more dear with every new nickname and every thought of graduation. Couples were a part - it seems as though some Seniors had more than their fair share of heartbreaks over certain special boys and girls. Each individual was a part because only each person knows what being a Senior this year mean to him. It took all of us—from Philip Morgan and his pranks and Versia Harrison's Office Practice make-up to Rhe and Brett Thomas in football, and Lewis Carter's embalming techniques. Benny Couser's lovely singing voice, and Sandra Farmer finally learning to cook.

We will always be CHS Seniors of '73 no matter where we go or what we do. Our class will always have that in common, and it will become more important as time goes on and things and people change.

Celebrate Memories

The 1973 school year is coming to an end and it has passed faster than some of us would have liked. For others it went too slow. But, all in all, it's been a very good year.

182 - Closing

We had our Now and we used it.
A lot has gone on, People studied, laughed, and did funny things. But this year was more than that. It was discovery, birth, escape, and people we never really understood.

It was individualism and Celebration: it made us more than a bunch of students. It made us people.

Closing - 183

Yet how many of us only played at living and wished away the present for the future? And how many of us got so preoccupied with dreams that we let days slip by, forgetting to live them?

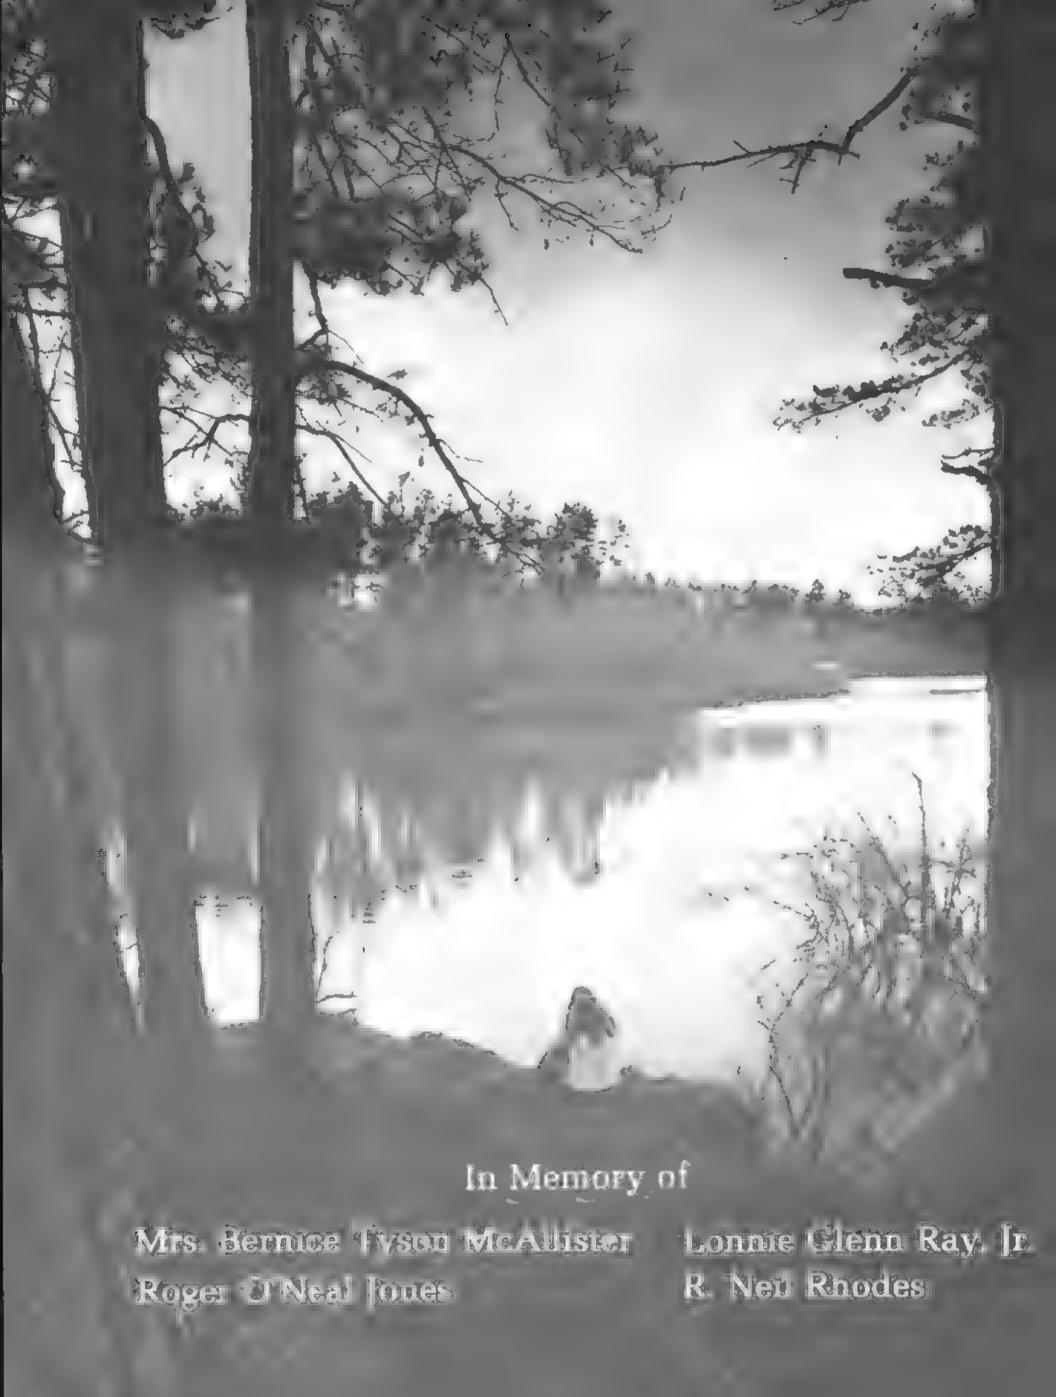

For many of us, this was a final attempt at celebrating a way of life that would soon be over, every day saw a desperate attempt to make it more special. It's been a year of Celebration. It's been a year of our lives - think about it ...

185 - Closing

Editor's Notes

It seems very long ago that this all began. Now that the final pages are gone, the days seem longer and there is very little to do. I should rejoice as the book goes to press; instead I feel empty and a little sad.

Yet I'm glad because it's been a long year filled with great expectations and because of them greater disappointments; work and play, failure and success, laughter and tears. At the times when everything went wrong, I wanted to just forget the whole thing. I wonder if anyone would have noticed.

But now that it's over, I hope that at least some of you will understand what it was I tried to do. Then, it will be worth the effort.

During the year, there have been many people who have been a great deal of help to me. I want to thank my staff - Mary Anne, Kathy, Susie, Hudson, Lila, Martha, Sharon, Karla, and Greg ~ for all the work and frustrating hours that they put in - after they realized how much it would take. A special thanks goes to Jody, my assistant editor, for knowing how I felt and just what was involved. And to Mrs. Thomas, there aren't any words I can say except thank you and that seems like so little for someone who has done so much.

Another thanks goes to my friends who put up with me and to the cast of hundreds who made it possible.

Joanne Herron Editor-in-Chief Too much has happened in my life, in your life, this year, to let it just slip by and fade out of our memories. Our goal this year was to reach out and take hold of the moments, the emotions, and the people that made your year what it was. I hope that parts of your life were caught in this book, if so, then our job was accomplished.

I would like to personally thank those on the staff who gave of themselves in order to make our yearbook possible, especially Joanne - who never gave up. My special thanks goes to Mrs. Thomas, who retained patience, when possible, and who exercised pressure, when necessary.

Jody Hart Assistant Editor Hey I well, its been mice knowing you I shaw really talk to you much while this year. But, I am glad we have become friends, you be good and watch your steps led hate to see you in trouble! Can you believe we finally made it, I mean his sencers. Stay Cool! Jour you Carter Karen Carter.
